Municipal Elections

on February 14

Ratepayers Annual Meeting To-Morrow Evening --- Possible
Changes Nomination Day

What will happen on nomination day, Monday, Feb. 14? The terms of three councillors expire, J. Rushton, W. Fraser and Walter Nelson. The remaining members who have a year to run are G. Pattinson, Pete Smith and J. Moore. Mayor Burns has also another year to run.

The responsibilities of municipal government should be shared by enterprising citizens as equally as possible, and for that reason it is advisable that one body of men should not remain in office for too long a time. They are liable to become autocratic or indifferent to their duties, with the result that things are allowed to slide. There is usually new for need aggressive men on most councils at the expiration of office. That is partly the reason for elections being held. Initiative is required to keep a town progressing, and this quality is especially desirable in the elected representatives of the ratepayers. It requires the expenditure of time to sit on the council or trustee board, yet if a man has the interests of his town at heart he will cheerfully take his turn in administrative or executive duties.

Sufficient interest it is hoped will be shown on nomination day to see that the vacancies of the time expired councillors are filled by capable men. It is for the ratepayers to decide, and to approach those whom they desire to represent them in good time prior to nomination day. Hap hazard choices left till nomination day usually do not amount to very much. If a man is worth while being chosen for office, he should be given due time to consider the matter.

On the school board Trustees Fraser, J. Moore and Glendon star musicians will play at the Burns Night dance in the Oddfellows hall on Friday night. Here as on the town council it is an annual meeting of the ratepayers is mere speculation as to who will be held on Friday evening, possibly nominated. There is talk of some sily budding aspirants for office changes being made, but as the will be taken notice of.

Girls Received Nice Offer

Bariff Winter Carnival Committee was very desirous of having the Coleman Shamrock ladies hockey team again take part in the carnival, and sent word that they would pay transportation both ways and send the girls $50 to help in expenses. This generous offer the girls were unable to take advantage of, owing to three members of last year's team having either married or left town. Unfortunately the girls had no substitutes to make up the vacancies.

Cold Had No Terrors for These!

The hockey club executive expressed its appreciation of the support given the club on Tuesday night. In spite of a very low temperature there was a good turnout of enthusiastic fans, whom even a 20-below zero temperature could not daunt.

The fire hall, which should be one of the warmest spots in town, is just the opposite. Twice this week the water pipes froze up, and the room in which the fire fighting equipment is resembes a barrel with holes in the bottom, as the doors allow the heat to escape or the cold air to come in faster than heat can be generated. In the council chamber and the clerk's office conditions are not very much better and to sit in comfort one has to almost perch on the stoves. It has been the intention of the council to improve this for several years, which reminds one of the well known saying that the road to hell is paved with good intentions.

PERSONAL STATIONERY

The Journal office will print 100 good quality envelopes for $1.00, or 100 letter size paper for $1.00, printing limited to three lines consisting of name and address. Cash at the time of ordering. Leave an order for your personal correspondence.

Hockey Interest Is Now Warming Up

Hillcrest Defeated on Tuesday by Locals--Both Teams Are Scheduled for Class B. Play-offs--Probable That Winners Will Play Medicine Hat in Home and Home Games

Gate and Fraser in Good Form--Sadistish Re-Appears Following Injury and Scored Goal.

Coleman staged a come-back in the league game on Tuesday evening against Hillcrest, though in the first period it looked very much as if the visitors were going to have the edge on the playing. Andreschuk of Hillcrest opened the scoring and it was not till well on in the second period that Coleman scored a goal through Letcher of Hillcrest bunting the puck past his own goal.

This put new life into Coleman and the redoubtable Gate and Fraser combination added two more in quick order. In the final period in a scrim-

HIGH SCHOOL "LIT" HELD SOCIAL EVENING

The Christmas party of the Coleman high school literary society was held in the K. of P. hall last Thursday evening, to which were invited besides the staff and pupils, the board and a number of ex-students. The dance program opened with an acquaintance dance, in which everybody got to know who was who, and so paved the way for a very enjoyable evening. Refreshments were served at 11 p.m., and dancing resumed till 1 o'clock. Mrs. Altermatt supplied the music in her usual "peppy" style. The hall was decorated with streamers of the school colors, and the dancers were bedecked with colored paper hats, adding to the brightness of the occasion.

The literary society program will proceed every two weeks as heretofore at the school.

AL JOLSON COMING IN

"THE JAZZ SINGER"

Manager Dow of the Palace Theatre announces the coming of the world's greatest entertainer in "The Jazz Singer." Warner Bros' supreme triumph, a stirring heart story of a lad of the tenements who ran away from home, won fame as a jazz singer when almost too late. Thrilling, emotional, intensely dramatic, the play is crowding houses wherever shown. In the all-star cast are dainty May McAvoy, Warner Oland, Eugene Besser, Bobby Gordon, Richard Tucker, Anders Randolph, Nat Carr, Otto Lederer, William Demarest and Will Walling. Al Cohn has his picture on the play by Samson Raphaelson as produced by Lewis and Gordon and Sam H. Harris. Alan Crosland directed. Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer" at the Palace theatre, Friday and Saturday.

"Wings" proved a very interesting picture at the Palace last week-end, and capacity houses each night were highly pleased with it.

Water Main Burst

A water main burst between Fifth and Sixth streets on Monday afternoon, causing a small torrent of water to flood adjacent properties. Hugh Dunlop's basement was filled, and his car standing in the garage was soon frozen in, as the low temperature soon formed the water into ice. The company has had men working steadily since to repair the damage, which owing to the intense cold has been carried on under difficulties. The burst pipe is one of the new iron pipes laid during the summer.

Oddfellows and Rebekahs Installation

One of the largest assemblies of Oddfellows and Rebekahs since the institution of the first Oddfellows' Lodge in The Pass some 19 years ago gathered in the lodge hall at Coleman on Monday night for the purpose of celebrating the foundation of the Order and installing the officers of Coleman Lodge No. 36, I.O.F., and Victoria Rebekah Lodge No. 7 for the ensuing term.

Eighty-six members of the order were present for the installation ceremony, including a number of visitors from Pincher Creek, Cowley, Michel, Corbin, Bellevue and Blairmore.

The installing officers were Sister Fraser of Blairmore as district deputy president of the Rebekah Assembly, and Bro. James Cousens of Bellevue, as district deputy grand master. The officers of Coleman were as follows:

J.P.G.-R. Vincent.
N.G.-J. VanMarion.
V.G.-H. Vincent.
R.S.-J. Rogers, P.G.
F.S.-J. Anders.

Conductor-MacKenzie Hunter, P.G.
Chaplain-E. W. Beart, P.G.
I.G.-W. Burns, P.G.
O.G.-H. Holstead.

Following the installation ceremony an able address on the subject of "Oddfellowship" was delivered by Bro. W. J. Burns, P.G., who later acted as toastmaster, when addresses and recitations became the order of the day, followed by luncheon and dancing.-Enterprise.

Even the enthusiasm of the carlers has been at the zero point this week. Last evening three games were scheduled, and only one was played, after scoring some men to fill in on the rinks.

The United Church Held Annual Meeting

Ladies' Aid Raised $600 During Year--Many Additions to the Congregation.

The congregation of St. Paul's United church held their annual meeting on Monday evening, Jan. 14. There was a good attendance. The reports of the various organizations were evidence of healthy conditions.

The Ladies' Aid have realized $600 during the year. The church school, besides taking care of their own financial needs, had been able to give $75 to the missionary budget of the congregation. There has been a good number of additions to the communion roll. The four communion services show more than 70 communicants at each service. All financial obligations were met including the allocation for maintenance and extension, the largest the congregation has yet faced. The official and managing boards are serving another year. The Rev. H. J. Bevan presided at the meeting. Refreshments were served at the close.

Western Canada in the Spotlight

The attention of people in all parts of Canada, and, in fact, of the world, will be attracted to the prairie provinces of this Dominion during the next few months in a way and to an extent probably unprecedented in the history of any country, by reason of the applications to the Dominion Parliament for charters to build many hundreds of miles of railway in the northern portions of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Both the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways are asking Parliament for power to enormously extend their lines into the north country, and both announce their eagerness to proceed with the work of construction with the least possible delay. There is the keenest kind of rivalry between these two giant systems for rights into certain sections of this territory, with the result that a battle royal will take place at Ottawa when Parliament assembles.

One thing emerges quite clearly from the situation that has developed with almost startling suddenness, and that is, that, despite all former statements and predictions to the contrary, the railway managements of Canada are now convinced of the enormous wealth of natural resources in the more northerly portions of Canada and of the success of the Hudson Bay Railway and Hudson Bay route to the markets of the old world.

There had long been a suspicion in the minds of many Western people that the former opposition in Montreal and other Eastern centres to the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway was based, not on their professed scepticism as to the feasibility of the route, but because of their belief that it would prove to be an unequalled success, with all the upheaval which the opening of this short route from the heart of the prairies to the markets of the world would cause in existing transportation conditions, rates, and routing of traffic.

Examination of the plans of the railways, as thus far outlined, indicate a reversal of formerly held views that the people of Western Canada should be served by lines running east and west, with all the tremendous production of the prairies moving out either to the Atlantic or the Pacific seaboard, and all our imported products coming in through the same ports. Now, both of the great railway companies appear to be determined to connect up their east and west lines by short branches here and there and the construction of great north and south main lines, all stretching hundreds of miles north of existing settlement and heading towards tidewater in the north. A veritable railway revolution is in prospect.

This declaration of absolute confidence in the northern half of these prairie provinces, and in the Hudson Bay outlet, evidenced by the willingness of the biggest financial men in Canada interested in the C.P.R. to expend tens of millions of dollars in northern extensions, will attract the attention of the whole world and will constitute the greatest publicity this section of the Dominion has ever received.

Regardless of the decisions reached by Parliament as to division of the northern territory between the rival systems, and the respective zones to be allotted to each, the result will be to roll back the map of Canada hundreds of miles. The old reproach and weakness of Canada that it consisted of a narrow strip of more or less settled territory extending thousands of miles from the Atlantic to the Pacific along the Canada-United States boundary line, is to be removed. To the Dominion will be given great depth as well as great width, and what for centuries has been looked upon as barren wastes of extensive territory, but of no value, will become a storehouse of treasure, the development of which will add enormously to the population and wealth of the Dominion, providing new avenues of employment, and diversified employment at that, for the people of Canada.

Utilizing Coal Resources

The new Fuel Research Laboratories of the Department of Mines at Ottawa, were designed and the equipment selected with a view to carrying out investigations which would be in the interest of the development of the coal resources of the Dominion.

Simple Precautions Against FLU

Sore Throat —

The Danger Signal

Health Authorities Point Out The Necessity Of Treating The Simple Cold At Its Beginning

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on "Nerviline"—every drop will penetrate deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Of course it is always wise to take some relaxing medicine, and for this purpose immediate results will be secured from Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they purge the system of impurities and carry off a lot of disease—breeding wastes.

This combination treatment of "Nerviline" and Dr. Hamilton's Pills is very effective for Grippe, Influenza, Bad Colds, etc., and can be relied upon to give very satisfactory results.

Alberta's Peer's Estate

Estate Of Earl Of Egmout Estimated To Approximate One Million Dollars In Value

That the estate to which the Earl of Egmout, of Frida, Alta., has fallen heir, will approximate one million dollars is an estimate made at Calgary with his assistance.

The bulk of the estate comprises Avon Castle, the family seat at Ringwood, Hants, and 1,300 acres surrounding it.

Some $40,000 has been spent lately in improving the land and the residence, declared the new earl.

In addition, he says, there are investments in stocks and shares and in war bonds amounting to a large total.

A STOMACH RESTORER

Good Advice From One Who Has Suffered Much

Discussions after eating, gas pains in the intestinal tract, pains around the heart, sour risings in the throat called heartburn, are common symptoms of dyspepsia. It is a condition often neglected until it has done permanent harm, yet the treatment is simple. The great cause of trouble is to this trouble is thin blood. Good blood and plenty of it is required by the stomach to function properly. If the blood is thin the stomach becomes sluggish, food lies undigested, gas forms causing pains, often around the heart. Instead of getting nourishment from the blood the system gets poison. The proper treatment is to enrich the blood, and there is no other medicine can do this as promptly or as effectively as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The sole mission of these pills is to make new, rich, red blood, which reaches every organ and nerve of the body, and thus not only banishes indigestion and dyspepsia, but also all other troubles having their origin in weak, watery blood.

The splendid results following the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is shown by the case of Mrs. Lucie A. Cushing, a former resident of Kempton, N.S., but now living with her son at West Bethel, Me. Mrs. Cushing says:—"I have no hesitation in strongly recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. For years I was a great sufferer from indigestion. Always after eating I suffered from pains in my stomach and other distressing symptoms that accompany this ailment. I tried different doctors while residing at my old home and also at West Bethel, but without getting relief. I was advised by a friend to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and in a short time I am feeling very grateful ever since to the good friend who gave me the advice. I have found the pills to be helping me and by the time I had taken nine or ten boxes I was completely restored to good health. Though an now in my 70th year I am feeling as well and smart as I did at 35, and am enjoying life once more." You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Speakers At Dinner Of Canadian Society

U.S. and Canadian Senators Guests At Function In New York

The Canadian Society of New York helped to strengthen the North American entente cordiale by bringing together as their guests at their annual dinner two senators, one from the Canadian Upper Chamber, Hon. C. P. Beaumont, K.C., and the other from the United States House, Hon. Simon D. Fess, of Ohio. The speakers dealt with the aspirations of the two countries.

Senator Fess frankly discussed the two chief issues now agitating the Congress, the Kellogg treaty and the new cruiser program, and he readily supported both. The United States, he declared, should not put any obstacle in the way of the effort to banish war.

Senator Beaumont reviewed the development of Canada in recent years and painted a glowing picture of the Dominion's future.

"Canada, with a vision quickening and widening, has remained sober-minded, fairly traditional, and, I think I can add, hardworking and still law-abiding and God-fearing," he said.

"When you grow up you shall be a gentleman."
 "I don't want to be a gentleman. I want to be like you, daddy."

Shows Canada's Loyalty

London Paper Expresses Appreciation Of Reverse To Penny Postage

The London Sunday Times in an editorial headed "Canada leads the way," welcomed the increased British immigrant quota as emphasizing the practical loyalty of Canadians to their British stock, but fears that the proper advantage may not be taken of it in Great Britain. The newspaper quotes further encouragement both of propaganda and finances. The Sunday Times also expresses appreciation of the penny postage and finds in it "a signal proof of Canada's strong imperial sentiments."

After urging Hon. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, to follow Canada's example the Sunday Times advocates a common empire stamp which, it states would have a real psychological value as a symbol of imperial unity.

Baby's tiny system rebels against castor oil and strong purgatives, but here is a medicine that just suits him. And it does the work quickly and so gently that Baby doesn't feel it. ## Kellogg Explains Treasty

The Paris pact for renunciation of war commits none of the signatories to it to go to war in defence of any country attacked in defiance of the treaty. Secretary of State, Frank B. He added that Canada made it plain that the Dominion would not be a party to the treaty unless that was understood.

New Metallurgical Discovery

New Process Said To Make Cardboard As Strong As Iron

What is called "the most important metallurgical process since the discovery of steel" is announced in an advertisement by the Einstein Electro-Chemical Process, Ltd., published in the London newspapers.

Materials which are non-conductors of electricity can now be electrolyzed, according to the claim made by this company, which asserts that wood, silk, porcelain paper and all metals can henceforth be coated with a surface of non-corrosive metal. As a result of the treatment even such flimsy materials as cardboard or plywood can be given the strength of iron and made resistant to the corrosive action of steam, heat, chemical fumes and water, it is declared.

Fortification of the frail fabric of airplanes and airships to the strength of steel, and solution of the builder's problem by entirely metalizing craft of every description, are among the claims made for the new invention. Woodwork and textiles can be similarly metallized, it is asserted.

The advertisement asserts that the British Admiralty and Air Service have ordered articles on which the electro-chemical process has been successfully used.

How many people you know who end their colds with Aspirin! And how often you've heard of its prompt relief of sore throat or tonsillitis. They relieve quickly, yet have no effect whatever on the heart. Friends have often told you Aspirin is marvelous; doctors have declared it harmless. Every drugstore has it, with proven directions. ## UNITED FARMERS ASK FOR BETTER FREIGHT RATES

Vancouver.—Backed by the United Farmers of the three prairie provinces, the United Farmers of B.C. will carry British Columbia's claim for better freight rates to the governor-in-council at Ottawa.

The appeal has been prepared and forwarded to Ottawa by C. G. McGeer, K.C. The appeal involves three requests: That export grain rates on the Canadian Pacific Railway to Vancouver be reduced to the level obtaining at Fort William; that domestic grain and flour rates over both trans-continental lines be reduced to the level obtaining to Fort William and the removal of the mountain differential in all freight rates covering the movement of all traffic into, from or through British Columbia.

Mr. McGeer will conduct the case at Ottawa when argument is heard. Mr. McGeer will also continue his appeal to the board of railway commissioners for leave to appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada from the commissioners' decision in the matter of domestic grain rates.

Mr. McGeer announced his intention of appealing direct to the governor-in-council before the board of railway commissioners. Later, however, when the board gave permission to Leon J. Ladner, K.C., who represented the attorney-general of British Columbia, permission to make formal application for extension of time in which the appeal would be made, Mr. McGeer said that if the attorney-general was going ahead with the appeal he was also going to ask for leave to appeal on behalf of his clients to the supreme court.

J. E. McMullen, acting for the Canadian Pacific Railways, said the application was one that should be answered by the full board at Ottawa. R. W. Hodgkinson, counsel for the Canadian National Railways, supported Mr. McMullen's argument. The chief commissioner, H. A. McKeown, said that in view of the circumstances connected with the application, and the fact that no notice had been given the railways, the application might very well be heard in Ottawa.

Discussed Problems Of Egg Marketing

Canadian Producers' Association
To Take Matter Up With Government

Toronto.—Egg marketing problems were discussed at the annual convention of the Canadian Producers' Association here. In view of the unprofitable situation which has confronted the dealers on account of surplus supply it was decided that a committee be named to take the matter up with the Dominion government. W. S. Cameron, Toronto, president of the association, suggested that the committee be representative of dealers, exporters and producers.

Alfred McCann, of Cheltenham, Ont., urged that advertising calculated to insure the consumption of eggs should be undertaken by the government.

Mr. Cameron in his presidential address, stated that the season had been a profitable one for the egg producers but on the average it had been unprofitable for the dealers. Consumption per capita in Canada had risen from 36.06 dozen in 1927 to 29.67 in 1928, and he expected the 1928 figures to show more than 30 dozen per capita.

Reparations Conference

Reported Meeting Will Be Held
In Paris In February

Paris.—It has been intimated that the reparations conference will meet in Paris about February 9, and in addition to Owen D. Young, former agent general of reparations, J. Pierpont Morgan is expected to take an important part in the discussions.

As far as could be learned from a canvass of the interested parties, no one seems to have any definite plan to submit. All the experts have ideas and some have a few constructive suggestions, but none have extensive programs.

The British experts, it is understood, will assume a waiting attitude, and the initial discussion is expected to be between France and Germany. The Italians will content themselves with trying to retain what they have already secured and Japan will trust to what turns up.

Great Increase Shown In Canadian Trade

Advance of Nearly $25,000,000 During Last Nine Months
Ottawa.—Canada's total trade advanced nearly $25,000,000 during the last nine months of 1928. The total of $2,007,860,158 compares with $1,778,092,824 for the corresponding period in 1927.

Figures were made available at the department of national revenue. Domestic exports were valued at $1,071,647,164, an increase of $121,542,797 over the comparative figures of $950,104,367 in the previous year. Wheat exports alone moved upward more than $31,000,000, while newsprint and automobiles were substantially heavier.

GERMAN PLAN FOR NEW CRUISER IS PUBLISHED

Berlin.—Publication by the London Review of Reviews of the text of a secret memorandum in which General Groener, German minister of defence, defended the necessity for the construction of a new battleship in the capital is a new battle in the cruiser has caused considerable consternation in government circles here.

As the memorandum was known only to cabinet members and a restricted number of persons official quarters are at a loss to explain how the "leakage" took place and an investigation has been ordered.

It is considered in Berlin that there is no doubt the London publication was from the original text and the indignation of the press is increased because the memorandum was withheld even from members of the Reichstag, who are determined to interrogate the government on the "scandal."

London.—Wickham Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, said that the Groener memorandum he had published is "perfectly authentic and was not stolen."

"It reached me in an ordinary way through a channel that I trust, and I satisfied myself as to its authenticity. They can make all the investigations they like as far as I am concerned."

Railroad Wreck Was Caused by Drunkenness

Roumanian Train Crew Responsible
For Death of Fourteen Persons
Turnu-Severin, Roumania.—Railroad inspectors said that drunkenness on the part of the engineer and crew of the Bucharest-Temeswar express cost the lives of 14 persons. In addition to the fatalities about two score passengers were injured when the express crashed into a local train which had been derailed.

The express was plunging along at 55 miles an hour in the dead of night when the crash occurred. The engineer of the express, which was heavily laden, was apparently blind to all signals. In their excitement over the derailed local train station officials apparently forgot about the onrushing Bucharest express, which plunged into the passenger coaches of the local train like a catapult.

Woman Leads Defence In Murder Trial

Prised For Plea in Old Bailey, But Fails to Receive Acquittal

London.—Miss Venetia Stephenson failed to secure acquittal at the central criminal court of the first man she had defended on a charge of murder, John Holmy Ward, aged 24. The jury without much delay returned a verdict the prisoner was guilty of the murder of his grandfather, a bookmaker, who was found with his skull fractured in Pimlico. But she received the warmest congratulations upon her case for the defence from Mr. Justice Humphries.

Stephenson eschewed any attempt at rhetoric. "I am fighting, for this young man's life and if words fail me it is because I appreciate the responsibility that rests on me," she said.

Miss Stephenson, however, used carefully chosen sentences when she pressed to a review of the evidence, urging the manner in which the accused's grandfather met his death was consistent with the "younger man defending himself from attack by the elder."

"I know you will not feel sympathy for the dead over-ride justice for the living," were her last words. "This is the most solemn moment of my life and I leave this young man's life in your hands, with a prayer that God might lead you to the right conclusion."

His Lordship in summing up said it was difficult to accept the theory of self-defence.

Western Pioneer Dead

Major Augustus Mills Came to Winnipeg in 1870

Winnipeg.—A pioneer of early western Canadian military expeditions, Major Augustus Mills, 79, is dead at his home here. He came to Winnipeg in 1870 as a member of the first Lord Wolseley expedition, and later participated in the rebellion in 1885 as a captain in the Kildonan Infantry, which made a far western march in search of the Indian chief, Big Bear.

For a time he was a Dominion government land agent and then, in 1883, was appointed deputy thronothary at the Manitoba law courts, a position which he held at the time of his death.

APPROVE NEW RURAL SCHOOL PLAN IN ALBERTA

Edmonton.—Approval of the Baker rural school plan, sponsored by the Alberta government, was voiced by the convention of the United Farmers of Alberta here. A vote, taken on the questions, favored approval of the Baker system by 205 to 151. According to the resolution the convention favored raising funds by grouping rural school areas in one district under a flat mill rate on assessed valuation.

Hon. Perren E. Baker, minister of education in the Alberta government, was the most prominent figure in the discussion on the system which bears his name. In the midst of a debate he was summoned into the argument at the request of the farm delegates. After outlining his system, the minister of education answered questions on the matter until the program was halted. According to the projected system, the province would be divided into 20 divisions of 15 school districts each. Chairmen of the district boards to form a general board, which, with the minister of education, would supervise rural educational matters in Alberta. Selection, placing and payment of teachers under the Baker plan, would be handled by the general board.

In the discussion on the Baker idea "government by proxy" was quoted as a name for the proposed mode of rural educational supervision. It was claimed that, regarding single taxation areas, "none would stand for a blanket tax assessed by a bureau of the government."

In answering his critics, Mr. Baker denied the "bureaucracy" and "government by proxy" allegation, and stated that matters would be governed by appointed representatives of the ratepayers. He estimated that the increase in taxation, necessary to pay for the better supervision the new system would involve, would be covered by a three-quarter mill increase over the entire rural area. And he contended that the new plan would place experts in charge of the allocation and selection of teachers.

TAX REDUCTIONS ARE URGED BY MANUFACTURERS

Hamilton, Ont.—The report of the special committee on taxation was presented at a meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' association. It recommended consideration by the government of a method to avoid "double, and in many cases triple taxation," which, it was held, occurred through taxation of net earnings of corporations and the personal income tax, which applied to dividends. Reductions of the personal income tax, reduction and final abolition of the sales tax, and reduction in the excise taxes on finished goods were other recommendations.

An important closed meeting of the council of the association was held at which over 200 members from all over the Dominion were present. A luncheon was also held, when Sir Joseph Flavelle, Toronto, spoke on "Industrial Taxation." He said: "Premier Ferguson, some time ago promised $1,000,000 towards industrial research if the association raised a similar amount. We have since collected $1,500,000, and the premier has challenged us to make that $2,000,000, with the promise that the government would advance a like amount. It is for us to accept this challenge," said F. F. Money Penny, chairman of the Ontario division of the C.M.A.

Sir Joseph Flavelle said that Canadian manufacturers were behind their British and American competitors in applying science to their business.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Tomorrow evening (Friday) the annual meetings of the ratepayers of Coleman school district and the electors of the town will be held in the council chambers. The public should attend these meetings in good numbers, but one would feel safe in predicting a mere handful, as is usually the case if there is not something to scrap over.

The general lack of interest on the part of ratepayers in municipal affairs is not common to Coleman. The same condition exists in hundreds of other towns, and yet criticism will be freely made throughout the year. The best way in which ratepayers can institute progressive measures for self-government is by attending the annual meetings of their municipal and school councils. A town which has not a good proportion of its citizens sufficiently interested to hear the reports of the councilors and trustees is much like a business in which a man has lost interest. It does not thrive.

The Hon. Perren Baker, head of the Department of Education of this province, is making some proposals in regard to the government of school districts which are to be commended, one of the most important factors being to improve the status of the rural teacher and to weed out the inefficient. As he points out, there are many trustee boards whose knowledge of what is required in the schools under their control, and the qualifications of teachers, is necessarily very limited, with the result that school children suffer. Moreover, there is very little inducement to capable teachers to remain in the profession, and annually hundreds enter into other occupations. Of course there is always a percentage who never should have been allowed to teach, and the proposed system will minimize this drawback.

Our schools cost large sums of money, therefore every care should be given to see that maximum value is secured in qualified teachers and efficient supervision. The selection of a capable trustee board is equally as important as the selection of a mayor and town council—in some respects even more so. Do Coleman school district ratepayers give as much thought to the administration of school affairs as they deserve? With the great majority their interest does not extend beyond sending the children to school. For these reasons the very best men should be selected to act as trustees, no matter if they be urban or rural schools which they are to represent.

Winter traffic on highways now has to be provided for and the town or city that is easy to approach by car is the place that gets the business. In the old days if a snow drift blocked the road, you either drove the horse and buggy over it or made a roadway of your own in the field alongside or picked your way along the ditch. But this cannot be done with cars, therefore progressive centres are seeing to it that provision is made for keeping the roads open. A news despatch this week stated that from Crows Nest to Cranbrook a snow plow would be kept at work to keep the road open, and that a tourist had made the trip from Lethbridge to Cranbrook in ten hours. With good roads winter driving in closed cars can be carried on with comfort, and this progressive age demands that main arteries be kept open to maintain communication between cities and towns. One train a day each way no longer meets the needs of business.

Not for many years have the steam coal mines been as quiet as at present. The very fine winter weather experienced up till this week has been largely responsible, for railroads have not been required to run extra trains and snow-plows, and the temperature has been well above normal for the winter season. However, the severe weather with sub-zero temperature throughout the entire west will increase the demand for coal, and very soon the spring activities and increased business on the railroads will make itself felt in the increased demand for coal. After all it will most likely prove to be a good average year.

Reports of the United and Anglican churches show that they complete the year 1928 with practically no debts. This is something to be thankful for on the part of the members, for nothing is more disheartening than to try and carry on church work without the support of those who benefit from the church services, and that includes every person who claims to be a member of any church. The church is taken too much for granted, because it is free to all, with the result that many fail to realize they should give something towards its support. Imagine a town without churches, and you will agree that there would be a great void. What little religious education children receive is usually at the Sunday school, and were there no churches the great majority would not receive that.

Time is the most valuable thing you have, or should be. Wasting time is indeed wasting money, and he who does not make his time count invariably will find himself in difficulties.

Town of Coleman Financial Statement

FOR THE YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1928

The Mayor and Councilors,
The Corporation of The Town of Coleman,
Coleman, Alberta.

CALGARY, ALBERTA,
11th January, 1929.

Gentlemen:—

In accordance with your instructions I have audited the books and accounts of the Town of Coleman for the year ended 31st December, 1928, and beg to report that I have received all the information and explanations required.

I have prepared the attached Statements for your information in addition to completing the regular Auditor's Financial Statement issued by the Provincial Government Department of Municipal Affairs:

1. Cash Statement for year 1928.
2. Revenue Statement for year 1928.
3. Statement of Local Improvement Notes Payable.
4. Balance Sheet as at 31st December 1928.

The Cash Statement records the details of the actual cash received and paid out during the year, and this Statement shows that the actual Cash Received was $243,80, more than the actual cash paid out.

The Revenue Statement shows a Surplus for the year's work after making the usual annual Depreciation Allowances on all the Town Property Assets. This year an allowance of 5% has been included for account of Town Hall Building and 20% for the Red Trail work.

You are aware that the money spent on the Red Trail was more than the Government were requiring in order that the Grant offered by the Public Highways Branch might be secured. This extra cost to the Town was met by proceeds of Local Improvement Notes Sold which Notes will mature during the ensuing five years. Therefore the Depreciation Reserve has been based on a five year basis, viz: 20% each year.

The N. Binda Relief account has again been a heavy item of expense, and the security in the hands of the Town and referred to in my report dated 16th January 1928 having proved valueless the account has been charged to current expense during 1928, and the 1927 account has been written off to the Surplus Account. The N. Orlando Relief account for 1927 has also been written off to Surplus, as this party has left the District and at present has no visible assets. Although these accounts have been thus removed from the list of the Town Assets, it does not prevent the Town Officials taking action to recover these amounts at any time within the next few years should the opportunity arise.

In accordance with your instructions the Water Survey Account has also been charged to Surplus account. This is the account that has been carried as an Asset for many years past although the work is now valueless.

The Local Improvement Notes maturing in 1928, together with the note that matured in 1927 but was not paid, have been paid in full.

In accordance with the provisions of the Town Act 1927 I have visited the Town of Coleman office four times during the past year, and at all times was the work up to date, the cash properly deposited with the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the several books in balance.

Pending your instructions from the Board of Public Utilities, the accounts of Mr. C. J. Ford and Mr. Haddin are still outstanding in connection with the Light and Water business of 1927.

E. D. BATTRUM, Auditor.

Andy took the wounded bird from her hand. "Ow did it happen, Connie?" he asked tenderly.

Connie was as open and unaffected as the wild birds of the forest. She was as capable of hating as she was of loving. Her eyes were laughing eyes, and the soul that looked out of them a merry soul, but she had a temper, and under sufficient provocation her blue eyes could take on a dangerous glow.

She now turned like an enraged lioness on the foreigner. "He killed it with a stick!" she cried furiously. "You brute, you cowardly brute. . . . In her rage her voice became incoherent. With hands clenched and with breath coming in short gasps, she moved nearer to the object of her hatred. In her hysterical anger her voice rose almost to a scream.

"You cur, if I were a man I'd—I'd lick you!"

The cry came to Donald's ears, and he was off up the trail like a deer.

"Go ahead, I'll follow," responded Gills.

Andy looked down on the mother goldfinch as it lay in his hand. He felt the quick throbbing of his heart grow fainter and fainter. One wing was broken and its white breast was stained with blood. The bird's head drooped lower, and a dim, settled look came over its bright eyes. The beautiful wings stretched rigidly, and it gasped convulsively, sending a tiny stain of crimson from its mouth that felt warm on his palm.

Andy's face became colourless. His hand shook violently as he placed the dead bird tenderly on the ground.

"Connie dear," he said, in a voice that trembled, "I ain't a whole man, but 'ere's where you see 'art a man gets into battle to give all he's got."

He removed his coat and threw it over his arm. Through a rage-mist Andy saw the grinning foreigner throw up his arms in an absurdly unscientific posture of defence. Like a mad cat, Andy launched himself straight at his hunky opponent. The grin was wiped from the big man's face by Andy's compact fist, as it smacked resolutely on the end of his thick nose with a snap like that of a whip, and with a skilled force that brought blood.

Andy's years of training boxers now stood him in good stead. He well knew that a small man would stand little chance in long range fighting, and he kept well inside the larger man's wild swings. With his blood head tucked against his adver-sary's body, his fists worked like pistons; he kept sending short jolts to the body that brought heavy grunts every time they landed.

Connie was delicious with excitement.

"Hit him, Andy! Hit him! Good! Good!"

And then she groaned as the big man's hand found Andy's throat and flung him to the ground. Little Andy was up immediately, but stepped into a swinging fist that caught him over the eye and sent him sprawling. Unaided, he came to his feet, waited warily for an opening, and again sprang under the big man's guard.

Andy's fist shot up in a ripping uppercut that was judged to be a nicey, catching his opponent on the point of his chin with force enough to send him rocking on his heels, and before he could recover himself the same fist, accompanied by its mate, beat a tattoo on his solar plexus.

In desperation the bewildered man wound his arms about the little Australian and lifted him high in the air. Like a game bulldog, Andy hung on. Though his feet were off the ground he clung to the big man's body like a leech.

Again the big hands felt for Andy's throat, and he was flung six feet to strike with a thump that shook every bone in his body. Connie cried out in fear as he narrowly avoided a brutal blow aimed at his head.

Andy's sense of British fair play had received a rude shock. "As Mehmussell said," he panted, as he came to his feet, "when in Bonhuda is do the Bonhudas do."

"Take that, Spaghetini!" he shouted, as he kicked the foreigner viciously on the shin. While the latter leaned over in pain, Andy also, well-directed uppercut to his face. The big man sat down, a dazed look in his eyes.

Breathless, Donald arrived on the scene, with Gills puffing in the rear. Breathing heavily, Andy's adversary came to his feet, picked up his hat, and with arms wound about his head beat a hasty retreat. Andy was after him like a hornet, sending stinging blows through his vulnerable guard. Donald and Gills stood with mouths agape to see Andy administering such thrashing to a man twice his size. Right to the edge of the woods he relentlessly pursued his fleeing enemy.

Andy's head was held at its usual cocky angle, and he assumed a swagger as he retraced his steps, but his short legs wobbled and he sank dizzily to a stump.

"I brought 'is blinkin' meat 'euse down, Connie," he gasped.

"Oh, Andy, you're a darling!" she cried, throwing her arms impulsively around the little man's neck, and touching her lips to his cheek.

Andy's florid face took on a deep-red tinge, and he blinked hard to hide certain signs of emotion. He afterwards admitted to Donald that he was no "sweet sixteen," and that it was the first time that he had ever been kissed in his "bloomin'" life.

Connie wet her handkerchief in the cold water of the creek and bathed his face with tender care.

She showed Donald and Gills the neat with the motherless birds, doomed to die a premature death by this act of wanton cruelty, and pointed to the tiny bird on the ground, for whose calamity and Andy had taken a well deserved and summary vengeance. Connie choked as the lovely male bird flew to a stalk of goldenrod near its dead mate and sent out its throaty warble.

"Dear, dear, dearie," sang the goldfinch in a plaintive, questioning note.

Andy presented a pitiful figure with an eye closed, his lips swollen, his face bruised, but the indomitable spirit of him shone from his one bright orb.

"You darned little buzz-saw!" said Gills tenderly.

Donald slapped his little friend on the back, his eyes shining with admiration.

CHAPTER XIII.

Renwick announced that Robert Rennie's daughter and a party of girl friends were to visit Summit Lake the following week, and carpenters were set to work erecting cottages for the accommodation.

A few days before her arrival Donald was both surprised and pleased to receive a cordial letter from her in which she said that she was looking forward with pleasure to the coming holiday, and that she would deeply appreciate anything he might do for the entertainment of her friends.

As always, her father spared no expense in providing for the comfort and pleasure of his daughter. That week a car containing a motorboat, canoes and six saddle-horses was run in on a side-track at the mill.

Connie learned of the coming event through Donald as she was watching with keen interest the unloading of the spirited animals.

"You will enjoy yourself next week, Connie," he said gaily. "Miss Rennie is coming with friends. We'll have rides, picnics and dancing."

A few minutes later Connie joined Andy, who sat on the steps of the kitchen door enjoying a breath of fresh air.

"Miss Rennie rich, Andy?"

"An 'ole barrel 'o dough."

"Is—is she beautiful?"

"I've 'eard so, Connie."

A short pause ensued while she searched the pockets of her overalls and produced several neatly folded papers. She extracted one, pressed it smooth, then passed it to Andy.

"Does Miss Rennie dress like that?"

It was a photograph of an actress dressed for the street, taken from one of the magazines that Donald had given her.

"I think so, Connie."

"Oh! She must be wonderful, then!" said Connie earnestly.

She moved closer to Andy, unfolded another page, and spread it out for his knee.

Andy bent his blond head close to the one of gold. A startled look crossed his features and his brows bobbed up and down. It was a full-page advertisement of ladies' lingerie. The highly coloured illustration of a lady, partially dressed, achieved its object of arresting the eye, while the remainder of the space was occupied by articles of apparel similar to those adorning the lady's graceful form.

Andy coughed. "Er—yes, Connie."

Connie raised her eyebrows incredulously.

"All at one time?"

"Sure—sure," mumbled Andy.

Connie stared. "Why, there must be nearly a dozen pieces. How is it fastened?" she questioned as she pointed with a slender brown finger to one of the engravings.

Andy took a quick glance. "Buttons."

"And this?"

"Buttons," replied Andy, gripping the bowl of his pipe and sending out clouds of smoke.

"And this?"

"Strike me blind, what a 'el of an 'ole," thought Andy.

"Buttons," he responded desperately without looking at the paper.

Canada's Historic Sites

The Historic Sites and Monument Board of Canada is composed of historical authorities, and one of its duties is to recommend to the Department of the Interior, historic sites worthy of being marked, restored, or preserved. The board meets annually to consider the various sites brought to their notice and forward its opinion to the Department of the Interior which makes the decision and carries out the work through the National Parks of Canada Branch.

"Your girl is a blonde, eh? Suicide or natural?"

"What do you mean by suicide blonde?"

"One who dyes by her own hand."

Quality Of Canadian

Goods Has Improved

Research And Skilled Labor Have Been Big Factors

The quality of Canadian products is steadily improving, with greater knowledge of research, scientific methods, processes, application of skilled labor and the needs of buyers. In the face of mass production competition, Canadian producers are seeking to hold their places by giving special service, better quality or distinctive features to their products. That they are succeeding is proved by the fact that Canadian manufacturers are exported to over a hundred countries, while supplying the greatest part of domestic needs. A still greater share of the home market would result in more production, more employment and more exporting, and it is therefore important that home industry should be encouraged by stabilization and other necessary measures as much as possible.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

RICE AND SALMON SALAD

Take equal parts of salmon and cold boiled rice; stir with a fork until the fish and rice are thoroughly mixed. Pour into a salad dish and cover the whole with mayonnaise or boiled dressing.

Canned tuna fish, left-over chicken, meats, ham, or vegetables can be used in the same manner—always use equal quantity of rice. The addition of celery and hard-boiled eggs make a more elaborate dish.

SANDWICH FILLING

One pound of mixed nuts (be careful to keep small particles of shell from clinging to the meats). One cup seedless raisins. Grind together in food grinder, add a little salt and the juice of one small orange. Work together very thoroughly, place in a glass container and keep in a cool place. Can be used between thin, well buttered slices of white wheat, white or brown bread. Ideal for school lunches, workman's lunches or picnics.

Already Advised

An "accident" case, in which the patient was suffering from a wound in the head, was taken to hospital. After taking the usual particulars as to age and next of kin, the official said: "Now, don't worry, I shall take immediate steps to ensure your wife being advised of your detention here, and so save her from anxiety." To which the patient resignedly replied: "She did it, Miss!"

Hewitt—"Can you get your wife to try the budget system?"

Jewett—"No; she won't budge."

He—"Yes, dear."

She (frigidly)—"Then perhaps you'll tell me what they are."

When Pain
Comes

What many people call indigestion is often merely excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sour. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One successful of this harmless, lastless alkali in water will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude medicine when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go get a small bottle to try. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. ## Trout and Salmon Await Anglers' Flies

With winter snows dispersing rapidly and ice dissolving into lakes and streams with the rising of sap and budding of trees, memories of anglers awaken picturing streams where one would wish to fish, days

"When even the deep blue heavens look glad, And gladness breathes from the blossoming ground."

The waters of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario have all their devoted followers waiting for the ice to disappear. These anglers are always eager to try new fishing grounds, and they will have new waters this year, according to Wm. Barber Haynes, writing in "Outdoor Life and Recreation." The latest bid for the favor of the sportsman is the opening of part of that famous salmon river, the Restigouche, to any sportsman who can pay a sum for a day's fishing. Heretofore, it has been impossible for anybody to fish the Restigouche unless he rented fishing water for a term of several years. Now the province has made it possible for new and ordinary circumstances to put up money enough for the realization of anglers' dreams—a week's fishing for the salmon of the Restigouche in New Brunswick.

The season for salmon in New Brunswick is from May 24—September 30. In the Restigouche River and its tributaries, such fishing is permissible from April 1 to August 16 only; the limit is 20 per week. The salmon season in Nova Scotia is from February 1 to August 31. Quebec's trout streams are many and widespread, and are easily reached making them deservedly popular both with Canadian and American fishermen. Satisfying sport is to be had in the streams in the Lake Edward district north of Quebec City. The Province of Quebec has a wealth of attractions for the sportsman. No portion of the North American continent is more richly endowed with fish and game. The innumerable rivers, streams, lakes and great stretches of forest offer an almost bewildering selection to the man planning a hunting, fishing or canoeing trip. The trout season in Quebec province is from May 1 to September 30 for speckled trout, and from December 2 to October 14 for the lake trout.

Ontario's most celebrated trout country embraces rivers and streams north of Lake Superior whose names many anglers are already familiar with. In this section special bungalow camps are at your service, operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway, they afford every advantage of an outdoor life just slightly lightening the hardships especially for those who wish to have greater comforts than a tent and camp outfit affords. The season here opens May 1. Distant fields are always green, and distant streams appear more green, while pools grow darker as imagination pictures fishing days in spring.
